

NEW LOOK WEB SITE

Written by John Hungerford
Thursday, 7th January 2010

No doubt you have had a look through this website and found a few things a little "different". These few pages are an example of the new site which AAGSC intends to launch in the very near future.

Why me? Well, I have been involved in many facets of the airline industry (sales & marketing, airport operations, training, executive management , ground handling and now IT!) for over 30 years. My background includes industry experience with Qantas, Air Vanuatu, Air Niugini, Express Ground Handling and Jetstar. From Australia to the Pacific Islands and PNG, I have held many and varied positions and originally took on IT as a "Hobby". Over time this developed into an area which I enjoy because of the challenges involved.

I have designed websites and online reporting systems for Jetstar, Qantas Ground Services and Jetstar Pacific (Vietnam). My industry background has ade me very conscious of the need to keep things simple. Hence the layout of this site has been designed with this in mind. You will find that most hyperlinks will take you directly to where you want to go and the menus bear relevant names and sub menus.

Continuous improvement also applies in web design, so if anyone does have any ideas or suggestions regarding the layout of this site, I would be more than happy to consider them once they have been approved by your committee.

I am based in Cairns (working in the tropics for too long made my blood too thin to move further south!) and am very proud to work with the AAGSC and look forward to being of service. If you do need to contact me for any reason, you can email me here or phone me on 0429.992728.

Go back to Newsroom